Profile Summary

I entered the university in 2012 and succeeded in obtaining a bachelor's degree in IT. During my studies, due to my great interest in programming, I designed an online clothing sales site (WordPress) and a micro-store accounting program(C#). After putting my academic science into programming, I got into freelance work. Due to the variety of different projects, I also entered other programming languages and also upgraded my expertise in PHP to an advanced level. After a few years of freelance work, I started thinking about entrepreneurship and team management. In order to advance the work properly, due to the need for technical team management in Internet business, I was able to bring my academic and operational experience in the field of CTO to a professional level.
